ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Dr. Linda C. Neilson, BA(Hons.), LL.B.(U.N.B.), PhD (Law, U. London, L.S.E.), former law practitioner (10 years) turned academic, former Full Professor Sociology/Law in Society, is now Professor Emerita, University of New Brunswick. Her recent works include, as sole author, three editions of an 18 chapter peer-reviewed, national electronic bench book for Canadian judges on domestic violence and family law (Ottawa: National Judicial Institute); Enhancing Safety (Ottawa: Department of Justice, on-line, French & English), a best practices report on addressing problems when families confront multiple (family, child protection, criminal) legal systems; Enhancing Civil Protection in Domestic Violence Cases: Cross Canada Checkup, -designed to improve practices in domestic violence cases and “At Cliff's Edge: Judicial Dispute Resolution in Domestic Violence Cases” in Family Court Review 52(3): 529-563. The author is also supporting the work of the Australian Institute of Judicial Administration in connection with the creation of a national bench book on domestic violence for Australia.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS: The author would like to thank academic and judicial reviewers who assisted the author and the National Judicial Institute by reviewing extensively the first edition of the judicial bench book, Katherine Kehoe for editorial assistance with 2009 edition, and particularly Justice John F McGarry for reviews, guidance, and assisting the author in bringing the original bench book to fruition. The author would also like to thank former Superior Court of California Judge Eugene M Hyman for his review comments and suggestions, his dedication to domestic violence law reform, and particularly for his never ending circulation of domestic violence materials to me, other academics, lawyers and judges. In addition, the author would like to thank the University of New Brunswick for its academic support and last, but not least, my husband, Dr. Antohony L. H. Rhinelander for both his personal support and editorial assistance with this e-book. This e-book is dedicated to the memory of former English County Court Judge, Hon. Judge Jean Graham Hall.
Table of Contents

1. Introduction & Acknowledgements ............................................................................. 51
   1.1 Introduction to the Human Rights Problem ......................................................... 51
   1.2 Judicial Comments on the need for Educational materials on Domestic Violence ........................................ 54
      1.2.1 Problems with ascertaining validity, remarks of Hon. John F. McGarry ....................... 54
      1.2.2 The need to enhance understanding of the complex relationship between domestic violence and Indigenous Peoples, remarks of Hon. Heino Lilles ................................................................. 54
      1.2.3 Legal system complexity & the need for swift access to materials, remarks of Hon. Eugene M. Hyman ..................................................................................................................... 55
   1.3 Reviewers and Contributors .................................................................................. 56
   1.4 A comment on the research foundations of this e-book ........................................... 56
   1.5 Information not advice .......................................................................................... 60
   1.6 A comment on the need to take action ................................................................... 60
   1.7 Tools for professional action .................................................................................. 60

2. Responding to Domestic violence cases: access to e-book materials ....................... 62
   2.1 Screening and Disclosure ..................................................................................... 62
      2.1.1 Disclosure Patterns ......................................................................................... 63
   2.2 Where to Look For Evidence .................................................................................. 63
   2.3 Address Immediate Concerns ................................................................................. 63
   2.4 How may social context information be used in a domestic violence context .......... 69
   2.5 What conclusions may be drawn from absence of criminal charge? ...................... 70
   2.6 Types of Intimate-Partner Violence; how to distinguish among them .................... 70
   2.7 Are there specific forms of domestic violence that I should be aware of? ................. 70
   2.8 More and more details are emerging over time. Does this indicate fabrication or exaggeration? 70
   2.9 The victim recanted assertions of domestic violence in an earlier case, does this prove that the original claims were false? ............................................................................................................. 71
   2.10 The perpetrator is claiming my client is ‘crazy’ and/or is misusing alcohol or drugs .... 71
   2.11 Where can one find information on the effects of domestic violence on children? .... 71
   2.12 How to interpret and respond to child preferences in domestic violence cases ......... 72
   2.13 Are domestic violence and child abuse connected? What if child protection was alerted and did not intervene? ..................................................................................................................... 72
   2.14 When and how should a child offer direct testimony? ............................................. 72
   2.15 How does trauma affect child testimony? ............................................................. 72
   2.16 Are there behavioral patterns that are characteristic of perpetrators? ..................... 72
   2.17 The perpetrator is making one claim after another against my client and anyone who supports her, yet is failing to comply with legal obligations ................................................................. 73
   2.18 What facts indicate risk and danger and why must both be assessed? .................... 73
   2.19 What are the strengths and limitations of tools used to assess risk and danger? .......... 73
   2.20 What if the targeted parent wants to revoke protection? .......................................... 73
   2.21 My client claims to have been strangled but there are no marks or visible signs ....... 74
   2.22 Do intervention programs for perpetrators actually work? ....................................... 74
3. Social Context Use and misuse

3.1 The Costs of Domestic Violence

2.23 Where can I obtain information about civil protection orders? ................................................................. 74
2.24 Where can I obtain information about weapons in domestic violence cases? .......................................... 74
2.25 Does section 127 of the Criminal Code apply if my client breaches his or her civil protection order? ........................................................................................................................................ 74
2.26 Where can I find information on when civil personal protection orders should and should not be granted & on allowable terms and duration? ........................................................................................................... 75
2.27 Is a finding of reasonableness of fear required for a civil protection order? .............................................. 75
2.28 How does domestic violence affect child best interests? .............................................................................. 75
2.29 What parenting patterns are associated with domestic violence? ................................................................. 75
2.30 Is targeted parent safety a best interest of the child criterion? .................................................................... 75
2.31 What risks should I think about in connection with parent child access? .................................................. 76
2.32 Should Canada implement a presumption against contact with the perpetrating parent in domestic violence cases? ........................................................................................................................................ 76
2.33 What does the law say about child best interests in domestic violence cases? ........................................... 76
2.34 May judges take judicial notice of the negative effects of domestic violence on children? ..................... 76
2.35 How does domestic violence affect settlement? ............................................................................................ 76
2.36 Where can I find information about custody & access options in these cases? ........................................ 77
2.37 Where can I find information about enforcement of access? ....................................................................... 77
2.38 Is denial of access ever appropriate? ........................................................................................................... 77
2.39 What should I consider in connection with police enforcement of access? ................................................ 77
2.40 Where can I find information about contempt for denial of access? ......................................................... 78
2.41 Where can I find information on variation or appeal of custody or access? .............................................. 78
2.42 Where can I find information on relocation principles in domestic violence cases? .............................. 78
2.43 The other parent has ties to another country; where can I find information on risk and prevention of child abduction? .................................................................................................................. 78
2.44 Where can I find information on child abduction within Canada? ............................................................. 78
2.45 Where can I find information on international child abduction? ................................................................. 79
2.46 Where can I find information about domestic violence in child protection cases? .................................. 79
2.47 Where can I find information on use of information from the criminal case in a family law case? ........... 79
2.48 My client wants to introduce polygraph evidence ..................................................................................... 79
2.49 What considerations apply in connection with tape recordings, computer and cell phone records? .... 80
2.50 Can my client introduce hearsay evidence from children? ....................................................................... 80
2.51 What do I need to think about in connection with expert evidence? ......................................................... 80
2.52 One of the parties is claiming parental alienation ....................................................................................... 80
2.53 What considerations apply in connection with medical and counselling records? .................................. 80
2.54 What considerations apply in connection with judicial dispute resolution & mediation? ....................... 81
2.55 Where can I find information on use and misuse of cultural evidence? .................................................... 81
2.56 My client is aboriginal. Do special considerations apply? ....................................................................... 81
2.57 My client has a mental disability. Do special considerations apply? ......................................................... 81
2.58 My client has a physical disability. Do special considerations apply? ....................................................... 81
2.59 My client is a member of a visible minority and/or is immigrating to Canada ........................................ 82

3. Social Context Use and misuse ......................................................................................................................... 83

3.1 The Costs of Domestic Violence ...................................................................................................................... 83

The Economic Costs ........................................................................................................................................... 84

The Damage to Children Costs: ........................................................................................................................... 85
3. Introduction to use & misuse of social context information

---

3.2.1 How social context education can be useful

---

3.2.2 Can social context education create bias?

---

3.3 Use & misuse of information about domestic violence

---

3.4 Related material

---

---

4.1 Introduction

---

4.2 Terms and definitions

---

4.3 Domestic violence: disclosure & access to evidence issues

---

4.3.1 Missing evidence is common

---

4.3.2 Obtaining information

---

4.3.3 Disclosure Patterns (Victims)

---

4.3.4 Disclosure Patterns (Perpetrators)

---

4.3.5 Where to look for evidence

---

4.3.6 Options to encourage complete presentation of evidence

---

4.3.7 What conclusions may be drawn from absence of any criminal charge?

---

4.3.8 When subsequent partners testify: no abuse or violence in the new relationship

---

4.3.9 Can mental health assessments determine the validity of a domestic violence claim?

---

4.3.10 When is an expert needed to interpret evidence of domestic violence?

---

4.4 Understanding & interpreting evidence of domestic violence

---

4.4.1 Introduction

---

4.4.2 Gender & Human Rights

---

4.4.3 Why do some statisticians say that men and women are equally violent?

---

4.4.4 What are the elements of domestic violence? Introduction

---

4.4.4.1 Domestic violence includes

---

4.4.4.2 Social context includes

---

4.4.5 The nature of violence in intimate relationships

---

4.4.6 Types of Intimate Partner violence

---

4.4.7 How does victim resistance violence differ from self-defense?

---

4.4.8 Post-Traumatic-Stress induced domestic violence

---

4.4.9 Why does determining type of violence matter?

---

4.4.10 Why and how is domestic violence assessed differently from stranger violence?

---

4.4.11 How is targeted-person violence distinguished from perpetrator violence?

---

4.4.12 What evidence is needed for accurate assessment?

---

4.4.13 What sort of evidence indicates domination and coercive control?

---

4.5 Other distinctive features of domestic violence

---
4.5.1 Heightened risk.............................................................................................................................................. 152
4.5.2 Interpreting Victim Recant.......................................................................................................................... 153
4.5.3 Intimidation that only victims can perceive.................................................................................................. 154
4.6 Particular types of domestic violence............................................................................................................. 156
  4.6.1.1 Men targeted by domestic violence.............................................................................................................. 156
  4.6.1 Cautionary comments on gender and domestic violence.............................................................................. 158
  4.6.2 Domestic violence specific to cultural context............................................................................................ 158
  4.6.3 New forms of domestic violence................................................................................................................. 159
  4.6.4 Animal cruelty and domestic violence......................................................................................................... 161
4.7 Related material................................................................................................................................................ 163

5. Understanding victims: harm, Behaviour & Evidence...................................................................................... 166
  5.1 Introduction.................................................................................................................................................... 166
  5.2 The impact of domestic violence on adult victim witness testimony............................................................... 167
    5.2.1 What is Battered Woman Syndrome?........................................................................................................ 167
    5.2.2 How domestic violence affects intimate partners..................................................................................... 168
    5.2.3 When domestic violators claim the targeted partner is ‘crazy’................................................................. 172
    5.2.4 What is post-traumatic stress (PTS)?.......................................................................................................... 176
    5.2.5 How do trauma & post-traumatic stress affect victims?.............................................................................. 178
      5.2.5.1 When details of domestic violence are disclosed over an extended period of time… 182
      5.2.5.2 How may lawyers and service providers use information about PTS?.............................................. 183
      5.2.5.3 Expert evidence: post-traumatic stress & the victim witness......................................................... 184
  5.3 Detection and prevention of intimidation in discovery proceedings and hearings........................................ 186
    5.3.1 Attend to intimidation in legal proceedings.............................................................................................. 186
    5.3.2 Prevent intimidation during discovery and hearings.................................................................................... 187
    5.3.3 Additional options to secure accurate victim witness testimony............................................................. 189
  5.4 Interpreting information from victims of domestic violence........................................................................ 191
    5.4.1 When information about domestic violence is not presented during the trial........................................ 191
    5.4.2 What if the targeted person has forgiven the past abuse and violence?..................................................... 192
    5.4.3 What about victims who keep returning to abusers?.................................................................................. 192
    5.4.4 What about victims who misuse alcohol or drugs?..................................................................................... 195
    5.4.5 What if the targeted parent has also been violent?..................................................................................... 199
    5.4.6 Can psychological assessments determine truth or falsehood of domestic violence claims? 201
    5.4.7 What if there has never been a criminal charge?...................................................................................... 202
    5.4.8 When allegations are raised for the first time during custody and access litigation............................ 202
    5.4.9 New partner testimony: no violence in the new relationship................................................................. 203
  5.5 Related Material............................................................................................................................................. 203
6. Children: Impact of Domestic violence & Evidence of children

6.1 Introduction

6.2 Domestic violence: impact on children

6.2.1 Introduction

6.2.2 How can information about domestic violence and children help?

6.2.3 The extent of exposure

6.2.4 What constitutes exposure?

6.2.5 Abandoning myths about children: bad news

6.2.5.1 Myth: Domestic violence is between parents, it does not harm children

6.2.5.2 Myth: children who do not witness domestic violence directly are not affected

6.2.5.3 Myth: school age and adolescent children are most at risk

6.2.5.4 Myth: very young children are less affected

6.2.5.5 Myth: children in the same family will report similar experiences

6.2.5.6 Myth: Domestic violence and parenting are separate issues

6.2.5.7 Myth: Domestic violence is the sole issue negatively affecting children

6.2.6 Abandoning myths about children: good news

6.2.6.1 Myth: all children exposed to domestic violence incur psychological damage

6.2.6.2 Myth: older children cannot be helped

6.2.6.3 Myth: children who are exposed to domestic violence should be removed from their parents

6.2.6.4 Myth: children should have no contact with the domestic violator

6.3 Listening for evidence of child harm by age

6.3.1 Introduction & qualifying comments

6.3.2 Domestic Violator Litigation Tactic Context

6.3.3 Child response: pregnancy to birth

Responding to evidence of injury: pregnancy to birth

6.3.4 Child response: Infants and toddlers

Responding to evidence: infants and toddlers

6.3.5 Child response: preschool

Responding to evidence: preschool

6.3.5.1 Accuracy of the perceptions of preschool-children

6.3.6 Child response: early school years

Responding to evidence: early school years

6.3.6.1 Accuracy of school-age child perceptions

6.3.7 Youth responses: adolescents

Responding to evidence: adolescents

6.3.7.1 Accuracy of adolescent perceptions and preferences
6.3.8 Interpreting children through a trauma informed lens ................................................................. 238
6.3.9 Inter-generational transmission ...................................................................................................... 238
6.4 Designing agreements & orders to limit child harm ......................................................................... 239
   6.4.1 Limiting harm ............................................................................................................................. 239
6.5 Evidence from and about children in domestic violence cases ....................................................... 242
   6.5.1 Child preferences ....................................................................................................................... 242
      6.5.1.1 When children express preferences to a parent or party .................................................... 244
      6.5.1.2 Child preferences in domestic violence context ................................................................. 244
      6.5.1.3 Why children may say they wish to live with a domestic violator .................................. 245
      6.5.1.4 When children resist contact with violators ........................................................................ 245
      6.5.1.5 Options: when a child asks to reside with a domestic violator ........................................ 246
   6.5.2 Child abuse claims in domestic violence cases .......................................................................... 250
      6.5.2.1 The overlap: Domestic violence and child abuse ................................................................. 250
      6.5.2.2 Child abuse claimed for the first time in family litigation ................................................... 250
      6.5.2.2.1 How may lawyers and service providers use information set out in Chapter 6.5.2.2 ? ...... 252
      6.5.2.2.2 Academic concerns about judicial neutrality ................................................................. 253
      6.5.2.3 When child protection authorities were alerted but did not act ..................................... 254
      6.5.2.3.1 Expert evaluation option ................................................................................................ 257
      6.5.2.3.2 Legal representation option ......................................................................................... 258
         6.5.2.3.2.1 Legal representation for a child: when to seek ......................................................... 262
         6.5.2.3.2.2 Legal representation for child: Domestic violence considerations ............................ 264
6.6 Deciding whether or not a child should testify .................................................................................. 265
   6.6.1 Obligations to consider the views of children .......................................................................... 265
   6.6.2 Consideration of the views of children ..................................................................................... 266
   6.6.3 Child testimony in domestic violence cases: Best Interest considerations .................................. 267
      6.6.3.1 Judicial analysis .................................................................................................................... 269
6.6.4 Direct evidence from a child? ....................................................................................................... 270
   6.6.5 Responding to a request for direct evidence from a child ......................................................... 272
6.7 Assessing child competence to testify ............................................................................................. 272
6.8 Options if a child is to offer direct testimony .................................................................................... 273
6.9 Interpreting child witnesses: testimony and demeanour .................................................................. 275
   6.9.1 Post-traumatic stress: the cause ............................................................................................... 275
      6.9.1.1 Frequency ............................................................................................................................ 277
      6.9.1.2 Results .................................................................................................................................. 277
      6.9.1.3 Implications: child testimony .............................................................................................. 280
      6.9.1.4 Using PSTD information .................................................................................................... 280
      6.9.1.5 What if expert evidence is not available? ......................................................................... 281
6.9.1.6 When is expert evidence relating to child disclosure patterns and or trauma or PTSD helpful? .......................................................... 282

6.10 Alternatives to direct testimony from children ........................................ 284

6.11 Associated materials ............................................................................. 285

7. Perpetrator Characteristics & Litigation Tactics ........................................ 286

7.1 Introduction .............................................................................................. 286

7.2 Responding to perpetrator rationalizations ............................................. 287

7.2.1 Alcohol and drug rationalization ......................................................... 287

7.2.2 Loss of control rationalization ............................................................. 292

7.2.3 Stress and anger rationalization ......................................................... 293

7.2.4 Mental illness rationalization ............................................................. 297

7.2.5 Complex domestic violator issues: coordination of services .............. 300

7.2.6 Relationship rationalizations ............................................................. 300

7.3 Identifying perpetrators .......................................................................... 302

7.3.1 Psychological profiles of perpetrators .............................................. 302

7.3.2 Listening for traits characteristic of perpetrators ............................. 304

7.4 Perpetrator litigation tactics ................................................................. 308

7.4.1 Using litigation to control or harass .................................................. 308

7.4.1.1 Potential cost options ................................................................. 313

7.4.1.2 Appeal Options .......................................................................... 315

7.4.1.3 Agreements and orders that enable harassment & control ........... 316

7.4.1.4 Additional Options in response to excessive litigation ................. 317

7.4.2 Responding to allegations of the targeted partner’s unlawful conduct ... 318

7.4.3 When the perpetrator insists on mutual protection orders ................. 320

7.4.4 When the perpetrator fails to honour the protection order ................. 320

7.4.5 When the perpetrator refuses to honour financial and cost obligations .. 320

7.4.6 When the parties present mirror claims ............................................. 323

7.4.7 When the perpetrator claims the other parent is ‘crazy’ .................... 324

7.4.8 When the perpetrator claims the targeted parent misuses alcohol or drugs .... 325

7.4.9 When the perpetrator claims the other parent is equally violent ......... 325

7.4.10 Interpreting information when only one party is physically present .... 327

7.4.11 When the perpetrator intimidates the other party in the meeting or hearing .... 328

7.4.12 When the new partner offers good character evidence ................. 328

7.4.13 Claims made for the first time in litigation ..................................... 329

7.4.14 When the perpetrator offers evidence of child harm as ‘proof’ of poor parenting .... 329

7.4.15 When the perpetrator seeks direct evidence from the child ............ 330

7.4.16 When the perpetrator claims ‘poisoning’ of the child’s mind .......... 330
7.4.17 When the perpetrator manipulates denial of access ..........................................................331
7.4.18 When the perpetrator manipulates supervision of access ..................................................334
7.4.19 When the perpetrator tests the limits of agreements or court orders ..................................334
7.4.20 When the perpetrator manipulates the benefits of maximizing contact ............................335
7.4.21 When the perpetrator makes spurious child abuse claims ..............................................336
7.4.22 When perpetrators enlist grandparents ............................................................................338
7.4.23 When perpetrators seek police enforcement of access .....................................................341
7.4.24 When either parent threatens child abduction ..................................................................342
7.4.25 When the perpetrator seeks mediation or other settlement process ..................................342
7.4.26 When perpetrators make complaints against professionals (such as police, evaluators, therapists, supervisors of access, child protection authorities, mediators, lawyers, and judges). 343
7.4.27 When the perpetrator threatens service providers, lawyers and judges ............................344
7.4.28 When the perpetrator claims lawyer incompetence ..............................................................345
7.4.29 When the perpetrator claims judicial bias ........................................................................345
7.4.30 When perpetrators file retaliatory parallel claims in multiple courts ...............................346
7.4.31 When perpetrators tape or video-record the other parent ..................................................348
7.4.32 When perpetrators agree to intervention as a tactic ..........................................................348
7.4.33 When the perpetrator is a police officer, lawyer or judge ...................................................349
7.4.34 When perpetrators seek to gain advantage via the “Hague Convention” .........................350
7.5 Concluding comment ........................................................................................................350

8. Risk & Lethality: Assessments for Safety ................................................................................351
8.1 Chapter content .....................................................................................................................351
8.2 Terminology ...........................................................................................................................352
8.4 Confronting the homicide/suicide domestic violence myth ..................................................354
8.5 Incomplete evidence inhibits accurate assessment .................................................................355
  8.5.1 Options to improve access to complete evidence .................................................................355
8.6 Risk and lethality: similarities & differences ........................................................................358
8.7 Perpetrator characteristics associated with the onset of domestic violence .........................360
8.8 Responding to risk (the likelihood domestic violence will continue) .....................................360
  8.8.1 Facts associated with risk ....................................................................................................360
  8.8.2 Facts associated with continuing violence in some studies, not in others .......................370
  8.8.3 Culture and status can affect risk ........................................................................................373
  8.8.4 What are the two most reliable predictors that domestic violence will continue? ..............375
  8.8.5 When evidence suggests continuing risk ............................................................................376
8.9 What is Risk Assessment? ......................................................................................................377
  8.9.1 Definition ............................................................................................................................377
  8.9.2 Limitations ..........................................................................................................................378
  8.9.3 When circumstances change ..............................................................................................381
9.2.2.3 Keep in mind Perpetrator Litigation Tactics ................................................................. 449
9.2.2.4 During the hearing ........................................................................................................... 451
9.2.2.5 Considering related material in this e-book ................................................................... 454
9.2.2.6 Securing case-specific information from other proceedings ........................................ 457
9.2.2.7 Use simple language ........................................................................................................ 463
9.2.2.8 Include prohibitions specific to social and cultural context .......................................... 464
9.2.2.9 Prevent Financial Control ............................................................................................... 468
9.2.2.10 Leave no room for doubt .............................................................................................. 468
9.2.2.11 Address collateral needs ............................................................................................... 468
9.2.2.12 Provide for domestic violence intervention ................................................................. 470
9.2.2.13 Address access to weapons concerns ........................................................................... 472
9.2.2.14 Exclusion of addresses ............................................................................................... 472
9.2.2.15 Terms to encourage accountability ............................................................................ 473
9.2.2.16 Consider safety measures to protect children .............................................................. 477
9.2.2.17 Specify conditions for access to children .................................................................... 479
9.2.2.18 Attend to the details ....................................................................................................... 480
9.2.2.19 Examples of promising initiatives ............................................................................... 481
9.2.2.20 Enforcement of civil protection by jurisdiction ............................................................ 484
9.2.2.21 Inter-provincial enforcement of civil protection orders ................................................. 486
9.2.2.22 Weapons restrictions in family law cases ................................................................... 487
  9.2.2.22.1 Why should close attention be devoted to weapons in domestic violence cases? ........................................................................................................................................... 487
  9.2.2.22.2 Weapons restrictions: overriding legal principle ..................................................... 489
  9.2.2.22.3 Statutory authority to restrict access to weapons in civil cases ............................. 490
  9.2.2.22.4 Limited authority to restrict access to weapons in other family law cases .................. 491
  9.2.2.22.5 Concerns .................................................................................................................. 491
  9.2.2.22.6 When to restrict access to weapons .................................................................... 492
  9.2.2.22.7 Options to enhance safety in connection with weapons ........................................... 493
  9.2.2.22.8 Helpful educational resources from the United States ............................................ 494
  9.2.2.22.9 Contents of restrictions on weapons orders ......................................................... 495
  9.2.2.22.10 Weapons & aboriginal peoples ............................................................................ 497
  9.2.2.22.11 What if statutory authority to restrict weapons is absent? ................................ 497
    9.2.2.23 Prohibiting modern forms of domestic violence ...................................................... 498
    9.2.2.24 Mutual civil restraining or protection orders ............................................................. 501
      9.2.2.24.1 Are mutual civil protection orders ever a good idea? ........................................ 501
      9.2.2.24.2 What is the alternative to a mutual order? ......................................................... 502
9.2.2.24.3 What methods can be used to ensure orders are issued against the correct person? ................................................................. 502
9.2.2.25 Should resumption of cohabitation result in revocation of the civil protection order? ............................................................ 503
9.2.2.26 What if the respondent agrees to domestic violence intervention? ................................................................. 505
9.2.2.27 What if there is a concern about potential child abduction? ........................................................................................................ 505
9.2.2.28 Failure to pursue, confirm or renew protection orders .................................................................................................. 505

9.3 PART TWO: Particular Types of Civil Protection ........................................... 508
9.3.1 Restraining orders ............................................................................ 508
  9.3.1.1 Jurisdiction ................................................................................ 508
  9.3.1.2 Relevant domestic violence information ........................................ 508
  9.3.1.3 Parties ...................................................................................... 509
  9.3.1.4 When orders can be made ........................................................ 511
  9.3.1.5 Requirements ........................................................................... 512
  9.3.1.6 Reasonable Fear ....................................................................... 513
  9.3.1.7 Should restraining orders be refused when violence was an isolated incident? ............................................. 514
  9.3.1.8 What if there is no evidence of recent violent conduct? ................................................................. 515
  9.3.1.9 What if the perpetrator has completed an intervention program? ................................................................. 516
  9.3.1.10 What if other family or criminal remedies are available? ................................................................................................. 517
  9.3.1.11 What if the targeted person keeps returning to the abuser? ...................................................................................... 518
  9.3.1.12 What if the targeted adult demonstrates no fear? ................................................................................................. 518
  9.3.1.13 Content of orders ..................................................................... 519
  9.3.1.14 Arrest clause ........................................................................... 520
  9.3.1.15 Duration ................................................................................. 520
  9.3.1.16 When an application to rescind is a perpetrator tactic ...................................................................................... 521
  9.3.1.17 Onus: setting aside restraining orders .......................................... 521
  9.3.1.18 What if the protected party seeks to revoke the order? ...................................................................................... 522

9.3.2 Without-notice ex parte orders ........................................................... 524
  9.3.2.1 Court concerns ........................................................................... 524

9.3.3 Domestic violence prevention statutes ............................................ 527
  9.3.3.1 The statutes ................................................................................. 527
  9.3.3.2 Constitutional issues: the arguments (civil) ........................................ 528
  9.3.3.3 Constitutional issues: the rulings (civil) ........................................ 528
  9.3.3.4 Domestic violence safety concerns relating to onus ....................... 532
  9.3.3.5 When protection pursuant to a domestic violence prevention statute should be granted ........................................................................ 532
  9.3.3.6 Is a finding of reasonableness required? ........................................... 535
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>10.11.2</td>
<td>When is evidence from a domestic violence expert needed?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3</td>
<td>Parent-Child Evaluations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.1</td>
<td>When are courts ordering child-parent evaluations?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.2</td>
<td>Admissibility: Expert Child/Parent Evaluation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.3</td>
<td>Applying Supreme Court of Canada principles to Evaluation Evidence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.4</td>
<td>Assigning weight, evaluations: case law principles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.5</td>
<td>Reliance on facts in court-ordered evaluations for truth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.6</td>
<td>Expert Custody Evaluation: Social Science Controversy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.7</td>
<td>Legal Response to Social Science Controversy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.8</td>
<td>Action to enhance the quality of evaluations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.9</td>
<td>Is the evaluator a domestic violence expert?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.10</td>
<td>Ordering an evaluation in a domestic violence context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.11</td>
<td>Scrutinizing custody evaluations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.11.3.12</td>
<td>Related Material</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12</td>
<td>Parental Alienation (PA) Introduction</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.1</td>
<td>Why is the concept pertinent to domestic violence cases?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.2</td>
<td>When access is denied, does this indicate 'parental alienation'?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.3</td>
<td>Does 'parent alienation syndrome' have a scientific basis?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.4</td>
<td>Legal Implications of lack of Scientific Foundation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.5</td>
<td>Current judicial practices: Parental alienation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.6</td>
<td>When parents do manipulate children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.7</td>
<td>Suggested Change in Terminology: Manipulation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.12.8</td>
<td>Considerations when a party claims parental alienation in a domestic violence case</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13</td>
<td>Hospital &amp; Counselling records</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.1</td>
<td>Therapeutic &amp; Medical records in domestic violence Context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.2</td>
<td>Relevance &amp; Value</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.2.1</td>
<td>When therapeutic and health records have limited value</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.2.2</td>
<td>When therapeutic and medical records do have value</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.3</td>
<td>Production of medical records (custody and access)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.3.1</td>
<td>Application of Charter values to health records</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Charter Values A</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Charter Values B</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.3.2</td>
<td>British Columbia Halliday Option</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.4</td>
<td>Imposing Conditions on viewing documents</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.5</td>
<td>Production of therapeutic records: Child Protection</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.13.6</td>
<td>Provincial and Territorial Rules on admission of Medical Reports</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.14</td>
<td>Related Material</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
11. Assessing child best interests in Domestic violence context

11.1 Introduction to Social, Domestic violence Custody & Access Context

11.1.1 New approaches and understanding

11.1.2 The overlap between domestic violence and child abuse

11.1.3 Do violators change character when alone with children?

11.1.4 In a nutshell: different approaches to domestic violence and non-domestic violence cases

11.1.5 Research: why domestic violence cases are assessed differently

11.1.6 Dispelling the myth that domestic violence and parenting are not related

11.1.7 How may lawyers and service providers use information about children & domestic violence?

11.1.8 Obstacles to accurate best interest assessment

11.1.8.1 Overrepresentation of domestic violence in contested cases

11.1.8.2 Incomplete evidence

11.1.8.3 Lack of reliability of child preferences

11.1.8.4 Confusing victim evidence and behaviour

11.1.8.5 Perpetrator litigation tactics that create confusion

11.1.9 Listening to evidence with knowledge of how domestic violence affects children

11.1.10 Red flag evidence: violator parenting practices

11.1.11 Process: assessing best interest in domestic violence cases

11.1.12 Considering targeted parent safety

11.1.12.1 Options to enhance custodial parent safety

11.1.13 Considering risks associated with contact for the child

11.1.14 Is a presumption that children should have no contact with violators warranted?

11.1.15 Should age and stage of child development be considered?

11.2 Legal context

11.2.1 Child custody and access: statutory framework

11.2.2 Divorce Act: nature of best interests

11.2.3 Do statutory best interests provisions violate constitutional rights?

11.2.4 Divorce Act

11.2.5 Provincial/territorial statutes: maximum contact and best interests

11.2.6 Why best interests should be assessed twice in domestic violence cases

11.2.7 Do provincial/territorial statutes require two assessments?

11.2.8 What does the Divorce Act say about domestic violence?

11.2.9 What does provincial/territorial legislation say about domestic violence?

11.2.10 May judicial notice be taken of the effects of domestic violence on children?

11.2.11 Parental capacity and child best interests

11.2.12 Domestic violence and best interests of the child
11.2.13 Is prioritizing child safety consistent with best interests? ................................. 758
11.2.14 Alberta and British Columbia legislation: prioritizing safety in domestic violence cases 760
11.2.15 Access is the right of the child – not of a parent .................................................. 760
11.2.16 When should children be forced to have contact with violators? ......................... 761
11.2.17 Is custodial parent safety relevant to best interests? ........................................... 762
11.2.18 Additional Educational Resources ....................................................................... 763
11.2.19 Closing comments ............................................................................................... 763
11.3 Related e-book material .......................................................................................... 764

12. Settlement & consent ............................................................................................... 766
12.1 Settlement in a domestic violence context: Introduction ......................................... 766
12.2 When parents agree ................................................................................................. 769
12.3 Options to ensure safety and best interests are considered ....................................... 769
12.4 Setting aside parental agreements ........................................................................... 774
12.5 Setting aside or varying a consent order for custody and access .............................. 775
12.5.1 Evidence predating the consent order .................................................................. 776
12.5.2 Concluding Comments & Related E-book Material ............................................. 777

13. Interim Custody & access ......................................................................................... 778
13.1 Introduction ............................................................................................................. 778
13.2 Reminder: Child best interests in domestic violence context .................................. 778
13.3 Interim Custody, Statutes ....................................................................................... 779
13.4 Current practice: interim custody ........................................................................... 780
13.5 Social context: when parents flee from domestic violence ..................................... 781
13.6 Interim custody to violators .................................................................................... 782
13.7 Interim custody principles ....................................................................................... 784
13.8 The nature of status quo in domestic violence context ............................................ 786
13.8.1 Status quo: child bond with the primary caregiver ............................................... 786
13.9 Status quo acquired by wrongful means .................................................................. 789
13.10 Safety and welfare as an interim consideration ..................................................... 790
13.10.1 Assessing child safety and best interests in domestic violence context ............ 793
13.11 Interim custody caveat: contested evidence ........................................................... 794
13.11.1 Disputes facts .................................................................................................... 794
13.11.2 Untested expert evaluations ............................................................................... 794
13.11.3 Potential options in response to untested evidence ............................................. 799
13.12 Ensuring cases proceed swiftly to trial ................................................................. 800
13.13 Interim orders: judicial monitoring ....................................................................... 801
13.13.1 When evidence is not clear and there are reservations about both parents .... 801
13.13.2 When safety is a concern .................................................................................. 802
13.14 Variation of interim custody orders ....................................................................... 803
13.15 Appeals of Interim Orders ...................................................................................... 806
14.1 Summary: chapter content ................................................................. 807
14.2 Reminders from Chapters 4, 6 & 11 ................................................... 807
14.3 Custody ........................................................................................... 810
  14.3.1 What child order is recommended in domestic violence cases? .... 810
  14.3.2 Exceptions: custody awards to domestic violators .................... 814
  14.3.3 When domestic violators claim shared time, joint decision making custody ... 816
    14.3.3.1 Is joint custody contraindicated? ........................................ 816
    14.3.3.2 Appeal court rulings on joint custody: high conflict ........... 817
    14.3.3.3 Appeal court exceptions: joint custody in high conflict ...... 819
    14.3.3.4 Joint custody decisions: evidence not hope ....................... 821
    14.3.3.5 Canadian judgments ......................................................... 821
  14.3.4 Parallel parenting ....................................................................... 827
    14.3.4.1 What is parallel parenting? ................................................. 827
    14.3.4.2 Is parallel parenting useful in domestic violence cases? .... 828
    14.3.4.3 What claims are made in favour of parallel parenting? .... 828
    14.3.4.4 Are claims in favour of parallel parenting supported by research data? 828
    14.3.4.5 Concerns about parallel parenting: Domestic violence context 832
    14.3.4.6 Considerations: parallel parenting on domestic violence context 833
    14.3.4.7 Precautionary measures ..................................................... 835
    14.3.4.8 What are trial courts saying about parallel parenting? ....... 838
    14.3.4.9 What are appeal courts saying about parallel parenting? .... 838
    14.3.4.10 Manitoba appeals courts: divided parental decision-making 841
  14.4 Access ........................................................................................... 842
    14.4.1 Unsupervised access, domestic violence ................................. 842
      14.4.1.1 What are the central contact/access consideration in a domestic violence context? 842
      14.4.1.2 What form of access do experts recommend? .................. 842
      14.4.1.3 What form of access is being ordered now in domestic violence cases? 842
      14.4.1.4 Child-centered decision-making ..................................... 843
      14.4.1.5 Onus: access and the best interests of the child .............. 843
      14.4.1.6 Can violators prove unsupervised access is safe? ............ 846
    14.4.1.6.1 Additional proof to support a claim for unsupervised access 850
      14.4.1.7 Unsupervised access ....................................................... 853
      14.4.1.7.1 What if the custodial parent misuses the conditions? .... 861
      14.4.1.7.2 Unsupervised access: options for children ................. 862
      14.4.1.7.3 Domestic violence evidence-based optimum practice .... 862
    14.4.2 When the violator’s parents claim access .................................. 863
14.4.3 Using parenting coordinators in domestic violence cases .......................863
  14.4.3.1 Parenting coordinators: Canadian case law ........................................865
14.4.4 Supervised access ..................................................................................866
  14.4.4.1 Statutory authority .............................................................................866
  14.4.4.2 What do experts recommend? ..............................................................867
  14.4.4.3 Onus: restrictions on access .................................................................868
  14.4.4.4 Circumstances warranting supervised access .......................................869
  14.4.4.5 Do experts have reservations about supervised access? ...................870
  14.4.4.6 Safety analysis prior to ordering supervised access ............................872
  14.4.4.7 Content of supervised access agreements & orders ............................873
  14.4.4.8 Guidance: Steps to obtain unsupervised access .................................878
  14.4.4.9 Supervised access graduating to unsupervised access ........................879
  14.4.4.10 Should supervision of access be time limited? ..................................880
  14.4.4.11 Who should not supervise access in domestic violence cases? ........881
  14.4.4.12 What if professional supervision is not available? ............................882
  14.4.4.13 Choice of supervision centre ............................................................882
  14.4.4.14 Who should pay for the costs of supervision? ....................................884
  14.4.4.15 Negative violator parenting during supervision .................................884
  14.4.4.16 Evidence from supervisors of access .................................................885
14.5 Applications to vary supervised to unsupervised ........................................887
14.6 Safety Options on variation of supervised to unsupervised access ...............889
14.7 Suspension of access ................................................................................889
  14.7.1 When to consider .................................................................................889
  14.7.2 Domestic Violence Context .................................................................891
  14.7.3 Case law: suspending access in domestic violence cases .....................891
  14.7.4 Suspension of access with continuing ‘hope’ provisions ......................897
14.8 Termination of parental relationship ............................................................898
14.9 Educational Resources ..............................................................................898
14.10 Related E-book material ...........................................................................899

15. Enforcement Of Access, variation and appeal ............................................900
15.1 Introduction ..................................................................................................900
15.2 Enforcement of access ..............................................................................900
  15.2.1 The statutes ..........................................................................................900
  15.2.2 Offence provisions, denial of access .....................................................902
  15.2.3 Reasons for denying access in domestic violence cases .......................903
  15.2.4 When violators claim denial of access as a tactic .................................905
  15.2.5 Is denial of access ever appropriate? ...................................................905
16.3.4 Canadian relocation principles ................................................................. 947
  16.3.4.1 Divorce Act and non-Divorce Act cases .............................................. 947
  16.3.4.2 Relocation principles, initial applications ........................................ 948
  16.3.4.3 Variation Relocation Principles ...................................................... 950
  16.3.4.3.1 Step one, material change .......................................................... 950
  16.3.4.3.2 After proof of material change, relevant facts & onus ................. 952
  16.3.4.3.3 Best Interest of the child criteria, Relocation .............................. 953
  16.3.4.4 Reason for moving: Domestic Violence Context ............................. 964
  16.3.4.5 Relocation: Quebec ........................................................................... 966
  16.3.4.6 Making custody conditional on relocation or restraining relocation .. 966
  16.3.4.7 Relocation restrictions, domestic violence context ......................... 969
  16.3.4.8 Willingness of custodial parent to remain in jurisdiction .................. 969
  16.3.5 Unilateral right to decide residence ...................................................... 972
    16.3.5.1 Examples of orders: unilateral right to relocate ............................ 972
  16.3.6 Provisions in relocation agreements and orders to enhance safety .......... 974
  16.3.7 Provisions in relocation orders to enhance parent-child contact .......... 975
    16.3.7.1 Provisions to reduce the risk of long-distance contact .................. 976
  16.4 Travel and relocating to non-Hague countries ......................................... 977
  16.5 Child Abduction: Social Context, Domestic Violence ............................ 979
    16.5.1 Qualification .................................................................................... 979
    16.5.2 Risk of abduction ............................................................................ 979
    16.5.3 Which children are abducted? ............................................................ 979
    16.5.4 Which parent abducts in domestic violence cases? ............................ 980
    16.5.5 Why parents abduct children in domestic violence cases ................. 981
    16.5.6 Is the child in danger when a parent abducts? .................................. 982
  16.6 Prevention of parental child abduction ..................................................... 983
    16.6.1 Why prevention is better than enforcement ...................................... 983
    16.6.2 What evidence indicates risk of child abduction? ................................ 984
    16.6.3 Provisions to discourage child abduction ......................................... 987
    16.6.4 When are more restrictive provisions warranted? ............................ 994
    16.6.5 When travel to the other jurisdiction is to be allowed ........................ 995
  16.7 After child abduction ............................................................................. 996
    16.7.1 Judicial orders in aid of locating the child ........................................ 996
    16.7.2 Refer to the following for related information: .................................. 997
  16.8 Child abduction within Canada ............................................................... 997
    16.8.1 Is unilateral relocation within Canada to escape domestic violence considered civil abduction? ................................................................. 997
    16.8.2 Inter-provincial custody enforcement statutes .................................. 998
16.8.3 Enforcement of custody orders from another Canadian jurisdiction

16.8.4 The “serious harm” exception

16.8.5 Does domestic violence establish risk of “serious harm” to the child?
  16.8.5.1 Domestic violence and “serious harm”: two lines of authority

16.8.6 “Material change in circumstances” exception

16.8.7 Enforcement considerations

16.8.8 Authority to include inter-provincial return provisions

16.8.9 Inter-provincial enforcement: child protection

16.8.10 Concluding Comment

16.9 Extradition: Child abduction

16.10 International child abduction: Domestic violence and the Hague Convention
  16.10.1 Which jurisdictions adhere to the Hague Convention?
  16.10.2 Non-Hague-Convention Applications
  16.10.3 Source of International Law on child abduction
  16.10.4 Current controversies: Domestic violence and the Hague Convention
  16.10.5 Purposes of the Convention
  16.10.6 Wrongful Removal or Retention
  16.10.7 Onus
  16.10.8 Duties of a court when responding to wrongful removal
  16.10.9 Exceptions to return of the child
    16.10.9.1 The human rights exception
    16.10.9.2 Judicial discretion on proof of exception
  16.10.10 The grave risk of harm to the child exception
    16.10.10.1 Grave risk of harm: Domestic violence and Convention perspectives
    16.10.10.2 Canadian domestic violence cases & grave risk to the child
    16.10.10.3 International cases: Domestic violence & grave risk
    16.10.10.4 Conclusion domestic violence and risk of harm
  16.10.11 Returning the child: Domestic violence considerations
    16.10.11.1 Introductory comment
    16.10.11.2 Return options: Supreme Court of Canada
    16.10.11.3 Return measures: limitations
    16.10.11.4 Examples of Canadian return provisions
    16.10.11.5 Concerns about undertakings: Domestic violence context
    16.10.11.6 Options to enhance safe return
      16.10.11.6.1 Options to enhance safety prior to return
      16.10.11.6.2 Provisions in return orders
    16.10.11.7 Arguments for and against return conditions
17. Domestic Violence & Child Protection

17.1 Introduction .......................................................... 1052
   17.1.1 The Challenge .................................................. 1052
   17.1.2 Chapter Structure ............................................... 1055
   17.1.3 Chapter Limitations ........................................... 1056
   17.1.4 Helpful Resources ............................................. 1056
   17.1.5 Terms and definitions ....................................... 1058
17.2 Legislative framework .............................................. 1059
17.3 Domestic violence research, sociolegal context ............... 1062
   17.3.1 Children who are involved in child welfare cases .... 1062
   17.3.2 Implications of domestic violence for children ....... 1064
   17.3.3 Is failure to protect a child from domestic violence a form of child abuse? 1066
   17.3.4 Targeted parent parenting ................................... 1072
   17.3.5 Enhancement of safety by supporting family unit .... 1074
   17.3.6 Importance of community ................................... 1075
   17.3.7 Seeing through child eyes: what do children want? 1076
   17.3.8 What do children need? ...................................... 1076
   17.3.9 Type of violence ............................................. 1078
   17.3.10 Domestic violence considerations ....................... 1078
      17.3.10.1 Qualifying comment: child views and preferences 1080
   17.3.11 Practical steps to maximize resources .................. 1081
17.4 Assessing risk ...................................................... 1093
   17.4.1 Assessing child risk: Domestic violence context .... 1093
   17.4.2 Assessing risk from violator parenting practices .... 1095
   17.4.3 Assess risk to each child separately .................... 1103
17.5 Current child protection policies ................................ 1104
   17.5.1 Controversy: Domestic violence as a child protection criterion .. 1104
   17.5.2 New approaches in child welfare cases ............... 1105
17.6 Domestic violence in child protection cases .................. 1108
   17.6.1 Legislative Framework ...................................... 1108
   17.6.2 Domestic violence & Child Protection Outcome Goals .... 1108
   17.6.3 Use and misuse of social context information ....... 1110
   17.6.4 Considering Evidence from prior proceedings ........ 1111
   17.6.5 Initial, preliminary hearings ................................ 1112
   17.6.6 Agreements and Consent Orders ......................... 1119
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7</td>
<td>Hearing: assessing the need for protection</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7.1</td>
<td>General Principles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7.2</td>
<td>May judicial notice be taken of harm to children from domestic violence?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7.3</td>
<td>Assessing protection: considering type of Intimate Partner Violence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7.4</td>
<td>Assessing protection: Type of domestic violence &amp; the child</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7.5</td>
<td>Assessing protection: the targeted parent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7.5.1</td>
<td>When a targeted parent ‘refuses’ to obtain civil protection</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.7.6</td>
<td>Assessing protection: the violator</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.8</td>
<td>Stopping domestic violence as an alternative to protection</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.8.1</td>
<td>When preventative authority over violators is limited</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.6.9</td>
<td>Assessing the need for child protection: community</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.7</td>
<td>Court rulings on the need for protection: Cases</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.8</td>
<td>Avoiding terminology that re-victimizes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.9</td>
<td>Reasonable child authority efforts in domestic violence context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.9.1</td>
<td>Reasonable services in domestic violence context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.9.1.1</td>
<td>Limitations on the duty to provide services</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.9.2</td>
<td>Reasonable services when targeted parent has a disability</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.9.3</td>
<td>Reasonable services: considerations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.9.4</td>
<td>Least restrictive or intrusive measures</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10</td>
<td>Supervisory orders</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10.1</td>
<td>Supervision versus removal</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10.2</td>
<td>Content of supervisory orders</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10.3</td>
<td>Supervisory orders: targeted parent and child services</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10.4</td>
<td>Assessing parental compliance with supervisory orders</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10.5</td>
<td>Supervisory orders: binding domestic violators</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10.5.1</td>
<td>Alternative methods to bind domestic violators</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.10.6</td>
<td>Domestic violators &amp; supervision</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.11</td>
<td>When removal of the child is the best option</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.11.1</td>
<td>Removal orders (content)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12</td>
<td>Parental access following removal</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12.1</td>
<td>Parental access prior to permanent/continuing order</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12.2</td>
<td>Child age and stage of development</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12.3</td>
<td>Supervised access</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12.3.1</td>
<td>Introduction</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12.3.2</td>
<td>Do experts have concerns about supervised access?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12.3.3</td>
<td>Safety analysis prior to supervised access</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17.12.3.4</td>
<td>Suitability of parties for supervised access</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
17.12.3.5 Commencement of supervised access..................................................1191
17.12.3.6 Expectations: supervisory agencies....................................................1191
17.12.3.7 What if professional supervision is not available?.............................1194
17.12.3.8 Problems with the evidence of supervisors.........................................1195
17.12.4 Long distance access via computer.......................................................1196
17.12.5 Access following continuing or permanent order..................................1196
17.13 Review hearings..........................................................................................1199
17.14 Child views and preferences......................................................................1200
  17.14.1 Duty to consider.....................................................................................1200
  17.14.2 When should a child offer direct testimony?.........................................1201
  17.14.3 Promising alternative: ‘child voices’ report............................................1202
  17.14.4 Admissibility and weight of child hearsay evidence.............................1202
  17.14.5 Assessing child competence to testify...................................................1202
  17.14.6 Potential impact of domestic violence on child views..........................1202
  17.14.7 Potential options when the child is aligned with the violator..................1203
  17.15 Separate legal representation.....................................................................1203
  17.16 Experts: assessing assessors.....................................................................1204
  17.16.1 When is a psychological assessment helpful?.........................................1205
  17.16.2 Ontario assessment standards...............................................................1205
  17.17 Placement with relatives or extended family members............................1206
  17.18 Aboriginal child protection........................................................................1207
  17.19 Parent education.......................................................................................1207
  17.20 What if the targeted adult neglects or abuses the child?............................1210
  17.21 What if the targeted adult abuses alcohol or drugs?....................................1210
  17.22 What if the ‘targeted’ parent has also been violent?....................................1211
  17.23 What if the targeted adult has a mental health condition?.........................1213
  17.24 Judicial bias claims as a litigation tactic....................................................1214
  17.25 Judicial dispute resolution/settlement conferences..................................1215
  17.26 Child protection mediation/family conferencing: statutes.........................1215
  17.26.1 Canadian statutes..................................................................................1215
  17.26.2 Evaluations of child protection mediation are positive..........................1216
  17.26.3 Special provisions: mediation in domestic violence context....................1217
  17.27 Optimum practices: child protection & domestic violence.........................1221

18. Judicial Dispute Resolution and Mediation in Domestic violence context........1231
  18.1 Chapter content..........................................................................................1231
  18.2 Judicial dispute resolution (JDR)..................................................................1232
  18.2.1 Definitions...............................................................................................1232
  18.2.2 Settlement processes: the controversy.....................................................1233
  18.2.3 JDR and domestic violence: the problems..............................................1237
18.4 Arbitration

18.4.1 Arbitration and professional controversy

18.4.2 Ontario’s response

19. Responding to Culture: use and misuse of cultural evidence

19.1 Contents

19.2 Definition of culture

19.3 Professional responsibilities with respect to culture

19.4 Impartiality and equality in cultural context

19.5 What is ‘cultural awareness’?

19.6 Step 1: appreciating the impact of culture on perception

19.7 Step 2: avoiding cultural generalization

19.7.1 Supreme Court of Canada on cultural generalization

19.8 Step 3: cultural misinformation about domestic violence

19.9 Use & misuse of cultural evidence about domestic violence

19.9.1 Misuse of cultural evidence

19.9.2 Proper use of cultural evidence

19.9.3 Culture of adults: Concluding comment

19.10 Cultural evidence relating to children

19.10.1 Supreme Court of Canada on cultural evidence and child best interests

19.10.2 Safety first

19.11 Preventing cultural misinformation

19.12 Sources of court information about culture

19.13 Qualifying experts on culture

19.14 Related materials; specific cultures

20. Indigenous peoples and domestic violence

20.1 Introduction

20.2 Terminology

20.3 Non-disclosure of domestic violence

20.3.1 Domestic violence in aboriginal context

20.3.2 Cultural obstacles to disclosure

20.3.3 Options to support disclosure

20.4 What conclusions can be drawn from absence of criminal conviction?

20.5 Domestic violence claimed for the first time in custody/access litigation

20.6 Assessing domestic violence: Indigenous context

20.6.1 High risk of severe violence

20.6.2 Considering how Indigenous context affects risk

20.6.3 Responding to high risk: safety options

20.6.4 Civil protection orders: Indigenous context

20.6.4.1 Civil protection orders: weapons
20.6.5 Domestic violence intervention ................................................................. 1356
20.7 What if the ‘victim’ has been violent? ....................................................... 1357
20.8 Process and trial issues ............................................................................ 1362
  20.8.1 Interpreting and responding to Indigenous ‘victim’ witnesses .......... 1362
    20.8.1.1 Detection and prevention of in-court intimidation .................. 1364
  20.8.2 When the targeted parent abuses alcohol or drugs ......................... 1364
  20.8.3 What if the targeted parent has mental health problems? ............ 1365
  20.8.4 What if the domestic violator has mental health, alcohol or drug abuse problems? 1365
20.9 Responding to obstacles to full participation in the legal system ........ 1366
  20.9.1 Language obstacles (other than English and French) .................. 1366
    20.9.1.1 Responding to language obstacles: law .............................. 1367
    20.9.1.2 Assessing need for interpretation .................................... 1373
    20.9.1.3 Choice of interpreter ...................................................... 1375
    20.9.1.4 Additional materials on court interpretation ..................... 1376
  20.9.2 Cultural obstacles to full court participation .................................. 1376
    20.9.2.1 Responding to cultural obstacles ..................................... 1377
20.10 Community approaches: healing circles and family conferencing ... 1380
  20.10.1 Benefits ......................................................................................... 1381
  20.10.2 Concerns ...................................................................................... 1382
  20.10.3 Considerations: community approaches in domestic violence context 1383
20.11 Responding to cultural evidence ....................................................... 1398
  20.11.1 Why specific cultural information is required ......................... 1398
  20.11.2 The relationship between culture and domestic violence .......... 1400
  20.11.3 Misuse of cultural evidence ....................................................... 1401
  20.11.4 Positive use of cultural evidence ............................................. 1401
  20.11.5 Responding to cultural evidence in a domestic violence context 1403
20.12 Particular proceedings ...................................................................... 1404
  20.12.1 Child protection in Indigenous context .................................... 1404
    20.12.1.1 Meaning of the term “Indians”, Canadian Constitution ..... 1406
    20.12.1.2 Applicability of legislation .............................................. 1407
    20.12.1.3 Evolving Indigenous child welfare practices .................... 1407
    20.12.1.4 Duty to consider culture ................................................. 1408
    20.12.1.5 Cultural considerations .................................................. 1409
    20.12.1.6 Considerations specific to Domestic violence ................. 1410
    20.12.1.7 When culture and other child best interests are in conflict 1416
    20.12.1.8 Promising options ............................................................ 1417
  20.12.2 Indigenous culture in custody and access cases ........................ 1418
20.13 Remedies .......................................................................................................................... 1420
  20.13.1 Civil protection orders .................................................................................................. 1420
  20.13.2 Custody and access remedies ....................................................................................... 1420
  20.13.3 Child protection ......................................................................................................... 1420
  20.13.4 Child relocation and abduction ................................................................................... 1420
  20.13.5 The family home and reserve lands ............................................................................ 1420
    20.13.5.1 Monetary compensation for the marital home .................................................... 1422
      20.13.5.1.1 When parties have joint entitlement .......................................................... 1423
      20.13.5.1.2 Agreements between the parties ............................................................... 1423
      20.13.5.1.3 Valuation for purposes of compensation .................................................... 1424
      20.13.5.1.4 Effect of compensation orders in domestic violence cases .................... 1427
    20.13.5.2 Limited ability to seize reserve land ............................................................... 1428
    20.13.5.3 Importance of exclusive possession of the marital home ................................... 1429
    20.13.5.4 Social implications of limited court authority .................................................... 1430
    20.13.5.5 Court options: occupation of the marital home ................................................ 1432
      20.13.5.5.1 Enforcement of agreements between the parties ....................................... 1432
      20.13.5.5.2 The marital home & laws of general application ......................................... 1432
      20.13.5.5.3 Occupation of the Family home remedies pursuant to the Family Homes on Reserves and Matrimonial Interests or Rights Act ........................................ 1436
      20.13.5.5.4 Marital property remedies under the First Nations Land Management Act .... 1436
      20.13.5.5.5 Family property remedies pursuant to Federal/First Nation self-government agreements ................................................................. 1439
      20.13.5.5.6 Inherent self-government jurisdiction ........................................................ 1439
    20.13.6 Personal property located on reserves .................................................................... 1440
      20.13.6.1 Indians, band members, and child beneficiaries ............................................ 1440
      20.13.6.2 Non-Indians and non-band members ........................................................... 1441
      20.13.6.3 Weapons on reserve ....................................................................................... 1441
      20.13.6.4 Personal property enforcement alternatives for non-Indians and non-band members .................................................................................................................... 1442
  20.14 Related materials ........................................................................................................... 1443

21. Mental and Physical Disability ......................................................................................... 1444
  21.1 Introduction to chapter ................................................................................................... 1444
  21.2 Assessing domestic violence when a party has a Mental or Physical Disability ........... 1445
    21.2.1 Introduction ............................................................................................................. 1445
    21.2.2 Enhanced risk: rates of domestic violence ............................................................ 1445
    21.2.3 Why few cases involving disability reach courts .................................................. 1448
    21.2.4 Domestic Violence reported for the first time in family litigation ......................... 1450
21.2.5 Assessing domestic violence in the context of disability

21.2.5.1 Why special forms of domestic violence associated with disability are important

21.2.5.2 Forms of domestic violence associated with disability

21.2.6 Options to enhance assessment in disability cases

21.3 Process

21.3.1 Introduction to process issues

21.3.2 Barriers to court participation

21.3.3 Competence to offer testimony

21.3.3.1 The controversy

21.3.3.2 Avoidance of preconceived notions

21.3.3.3 Competence: Canada Evidence Act

21.3.3.4 Provincial Evidence Acts

21.3.4 Options to enhance due process: disability

21.3.4.1 Interpreters

21.3.4.1.1 Legal context

21.3.4.1.2 Choice of interpreter in domestic violence cases

21.3.4.1.3 The importance of a translator/interpreter oath

21.3.4.1.4 Practice tips: Interpreters in court

21.3.4.2 Practices to avoid when a witness or party has a disability

21.3.4.3 When information about a disability is used to secure litigation advantage

21.3.4.4 Parental disability: intervention services in child protection cases

21.3.5 Remedies

21.3.5.1 Provincial and territorial legislation: adult disability and protection

21.3.5.2 Domestic violence prevention statutes & disability

21.3.5.3 Remedies when disability is a factor

21.3.6 Mental and physical requirements: online resources

22. Minority / Immigration Status in domestic violence cases

22.1 Introduction

22.2 Assessment

22.2.1 Introduction: Domestic violence in social context

22.2.2 Domestic violence in immigration context

22.2.3 Obstacles to reporting domestic violence

22.2.3.1 Overriding disincentive to reporting domestic violence

22.2.3.2 When domestic violence is reported for the first time in family litigation

22.2.4 Forms of Domestic Violence: Minority & Immigration Status

22.2.5 Potential responses to forms of domestic violence associated with minority and immigration
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>22.2.6 Options to enhance assessment</td>
<td>1517</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3 Process issues</td>
<td>1521</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.1 Use and misuse of cultural evidence</td>
<td>1521</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.1.1 Use and misuse of cultural evidence relating to parenting</td>
<td>1521</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.1.2 Qualification of experts on culture in domestic violence cases</td>
<td>1522</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.2 Judicial notice of social, ‘racial’ &amp; immigration disadvantage</td>
<td>1522</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.3 Language and the right to Interpretation</td>
<td>1523</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.3.1 Unresolved interpretation issues</td>
<td>1524</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.3.2 Increasing importance of Court Interpretation</td>
<td>1526</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.3.3 Actions that can help to overcome language barriers</td>
<td>1526</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.3.4 Online translation resources (other than English / French)</td>
<td>1529</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.4 When violators use immigration as a custody and access tactic</td>
<td>1529</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.3.4.1 Considerations</td>
<td>1530</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4 Remedies</td>
<td>1532</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.1 Specific prohibitions in civil protection orders</td>
<td>1532</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.2 Potential for child abduction</td>
<td>1532</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.3 Supervised access: language matters</td>
<td>1532</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4 Family courts &amp; immigration status</td>
<td>1534</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.1 Introduction</td>
<td>1534</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.2 Why does immigration status matter in a family court?</td>
<td>1536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.3 Limitations on family court authority: immigration context</td>
<td>1537</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.4 When the targeted person is in Canada illegally</td>
<td>1538</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.4.1 Research-informed options for family lawyers when the targeted adult is in Canada illegally</td>
<td>1541</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.5 Permanent residents</td>
<td>1545</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.6 Legally in Canada without permanent residence status</td>
<td>1546</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.6.1 What can family lawyers do if the client is legally in Canada without permanent residence status</td>
<td>1550</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.7 Humanitarian, protected person and refugee grounds</td>
<td>1550</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.8 Immigration Child best Interest Considerations</td>
<td>1551</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22.4.4.9 Findings of mutual domestic violence</td>
<td>1553</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Supplementary Reference 1: Understanding the nature of domestic violence: assessing violence in context

- Introduction.................................................................................................................. 1554
- Does consideration of social context create bias?....................................................... 1554
- The Ecological Model..................................................................................................... 1557
Supplementary Reference 2: Children and Domestic Violence

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td>1601</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Domestic Violence Witnessed by Children: The Extent</td>
<td>1603</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Domestic Violence and Children: The Complexity of Research on Domestic Violence &amp; Child Abuse</td>
<td>1608</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Domestic Violence and Children: Impact on Children</td>
<td>1619</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Understanding Children’s Worlds</td>
<td>1626</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Domestic Violence and the Fetus</td>
<td>1627</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Infants and Toddlers: Abandoning Old Myths</td>
<td>1629</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Infants &amp; Toddlers: exposure to violence &amp; the developing brain</td>
<td>1632</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Babies &amp; Infants: Documented Patterns of Harm</td>
<td>1638</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Infants &amp; Traumatized Children: Non-Verbal beings &amp; Law</td>
<td>1643</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pre-School</td>
<td>1644</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pre-School – Implications for Interviewers</td>
<td>1645</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The School Years</td>
<td>1646</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adolescents</td>
<td>1648</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Factors that limit harm</td>
<td>1649</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Long Term Consequences</td>
<td>1651</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Special Concern: Post-Traumatic Stress</td>
<td>1659</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frequency of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder in Children Exposed to Domestic Violence</td>
<td>1662</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Implications of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and Potential Impact on Child Witnesses</td>
<td>1664</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Assessment of Child Witnesses in the Context of Post-Traumatic-Stress & vulnerability. 1665

Domestic Violence and Child Witnesses in Family Law Cases..................................................1668
Children in Court: Balancing Child Rights with Welfare – Process considerations...............1669
Impact of Testifying on Children................................................................................................1671
Process: Court Practices that have a Negative Impact on Children........................................1672
Process: Deciding whether or not to allow testimony from a child in a family domestic Violence Case............................................................................................................................................1676
Child Witnesses of Domestic Violence – Some Court Options.............................................1679
Role and Responsibilities: Questioning of Children.................................................................1686

Supplementary Reference Bibliography: Effects of Domestic Violence on Children.......1694

Supplementary Reference 3: Perpetrators: Perpetrator Characteristics; Perpetrator Litigation Tactics.................................................................1760
Introduction................................................................................................................................1760
Perpetrator Rationalizations........................................................................................................1761
Alcohol and Drugs.....................................................................................................................1761
Loss of Control..........................................................................................................................1763
Stress and Anger.......................................................................................................................1765
Mental Illness...........................................................................................................................1767
Relationship Problems.............................................................................................................1769
Social Characteristics of Perpetrators......................................................................................1770
Childhood Abuse......................................................................................................................1770
Perpetrators in Public...............................................................................................................1771
Perpetrators in Private..............................................................................................................1772
  Control......................................................................................................................................1772
  Entitlement.................................................................................................................................1773
  Lack of Empathy......................................................................................................................1774
  Possessiveness........................................................................................................................1775
  Manipulation.............................................................................................................................1775
  Denial, Minimization.............................................................................................................1777
  Externalization, Projection of Responsibility........................................................................1782
Introduction.............................................................................................................................1783
Claims of First-Time Occurrence..............................................................................................1783
  The Problem..........................................................................................................................1783
  Legal System Considerations: Evidence Filters Criminal..................................................1783
  Legal System Considerations: Evidence Filters, Family Law............................................1787
Supplementary Reference Chapter 4: Mutual Claims

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The History of Legal Responses</td>
<td>1810</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Victim Violence: The Frequency</td>
<td>1811</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Victim Violence: The Socio-Legal Context</td>
<td>1812</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Victim Violence: Options</td>
<td>1817</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Restraining Orders</td>
<td>1817</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Claims: Caution</td>
<td>1818</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Assessing Mutual Claims in Context</td>
<td>1820</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Supplementary Reference Chapter 5: Culture in a Domestic Violence Context

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Chapter Outline</td>
<td>1822</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td>1822</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cultural Vulnerability, Domestic Violence Context</td>
<td>1824</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Individualistic and Collective Perceptions</td>
<td>1828</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Research on Gender &amp; Cultural bias in Canadian Courts</td>
<td>1829</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Common Myths Relating to Cultural Education</td>
<td>1830</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Critical First Step</td>
<td>1831</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Impact of Culture on Judicial Perception</td>
<td>1832</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What is Cultural Generalization?</td>
<td>1835</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Examples of Potential Cultural ‘Blind Sports’ in domestic violence Cases</td>
<td>1837</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What is Cultural Misinformation?</td>
<td>1839</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Culture as a Rationalization for Domestic Violence</td>
<td>1840</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Responding to Experts on Culture</td>
<td>1848</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Preventing Cultural Misinformation</td>
<td>1850</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cultural Considerations in Child Custody and Welfare Cases</td>
<td>1851</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summary</td>
<td>1858</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Supplementary Reference Chapter 6: Understanding Domestic Violence among Indigenous Peoples

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Responding to domestic violence in Indigenous contexts</td>
<td>1864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cultural Diversity</td>
<td>1864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Indigenous Cultures &amp; Domestic Violence</td>
<td>1866</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Implications: Education on Indigenous Culture</td>
<td>1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terminology</td>
<td>1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Enhanced Risk</td>
<td>1868</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Origin of domestic violence in Indigenous Context</td>
<td>1871</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Use of Information in the legal system about Indigenous Context</td>
<td>1873</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Obstacles to Full Participation

Responding to Obstacles in Court

Interpreting Indigenous 'Victim' Witnesses

Community Approaches: Healing Circles & Family Conferencing

The Benefits

The Concerns

Conclusion

Resources on Healing and Sentencing Circles

Concluding Comments